

This year's planned 30th anniversary of the Australian Womens Keelboat Regatta (AWKR) may have been postponed again but that won't stop us catching up for a Zoom chat at 7pm AEST on Saturday June 12th to catch up and hear what is planned for the postponed event in a few months time. Kristen (AWKR Chair) and Monica (our Club Captain) will be hosting the event. To access the zoom meeting please use the link below. We also hope to get a few sailors from Sail Online join us again as they did last year.

We can't race physically so Sail Online \(SOL\) is kindly hosting what would normally be our longer race during the AWKR. You won't need to be a computer gamer for this one and it won't cost you a cent because SOL is free. We will be sailing a brand new First27 which would be a very nice boat for the AWKR in real life. SOL uses real winds that change throughout the race as the winds change on the bay. If you get it right you could get around the course with just a couple of tacks and one or two gybes. So set up your free account at Sail Online and join us for a virtual 29.9th AWKR.
